WAR IS OFFICIALLY DECLARED BETWEEN TURKEY AND RUSSIA

Private Message Through American Embassy Tells of Official Declaration

DEMANDS PASSPORTS

Russian Ambassador at Constantinople Has Demanded Passports as Result Bombardment

BLAMES GERMANS IN TURKISH NAVY

BULLETIN.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 31.—Official messages received by customs officials here from Ottawa state that war has broken out between Great Britain and Turkey.

BULLETIN.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—It is officially announced in London that the Turkish government summarily shut off communication with the British embassy at Constantinople on Friday and that the British government must take whatever action is required to protect British interests and territory and Egypt from attacks made or threatened.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—War has been officially declared at Constantinople between Turkey and Russia, according to a private message transmitted today through the courtesy of the American embassy. The ambassador has not advised the Washington government of the declaration of war; but officials thought tonight his message had either been delayed in transit or that he was awaiting formal notification by the Ottoman government.

The private message was dated five p. m. yesterday and reached here a few hours after a long despatch from Ambassador Morgenthau himself, describing events in Constantinople up to noon today.

Mr. Morganthau said that early yesterday the Russian ambassador received instruction from his government to demand his passports as the result of the Turkish bombardment of Russian seaports. During the morning the Turkish minister of finance called on the French ambassador informing him that the bombardment had occurred without the previous knowledge of the Ottoman government. He placed the blame for the incident on the shoulders of the German officers in the Turkish navy.

Others to Leave Also.

This explanation did not alter the purpose of the Russian ambassador to leave and the French and British ambassadors made preparations to leave Constantinople together today.

No mention was made in Mr. Morgenthau's first despatch of demands by the allied powers upon the Porte and it is presumed the ultimatum, reported from London, delivered late yesterday, was promptly rejected and diplomatic relations with all three powers severed. This is borne out by the fact that in the private message, filed at 5 p. m., stating that there was an official declaration of war between Turkey and Russia, the prediction is made that declarations of war with England and France would follow immediately.

Will Apply to Other Countries.

Advices received here under date of Thursday indicated that Turkey still hoped to confine her belligerency to war with Russia. The British and French ambassadors, however, are understood to have made it plain that a declaration of war against Russia would be considered as applying also against Great Britain and France.

No word was received by the American government today as to the probable attitude of Roumania or Bulgaria. A belated message under date of September 29, from Sofia, however, spoke of a speech by the King proclaiming the intention of Bulgaria to remain neutral.

On the authority of a diplomat it was learned today that A. Rustem Bey, the Turkish ambassador, before his departure from Washington three weeks ago, told a peace advocate that Turkey would join Germany within a month, attacking Russia on the Caucasian frontier and Great Britain in Egypt.

With the severing of diplomatic relations between the triple entente powers and the Porte the American embassy will take charge of British and French interests while the Italian embassy has already taken over Russian affairs.

FRISCO WILL SEND AID.

San Francisco, Oct. 31.—In response to an appeal to California for help, the San Francisco chamber of commerce today notified H. C. Hoover, chairman of the American commission at London for the relief of Belgium, that an immediate campaign would be pushed with vigor to charter a ship and send it through the Panama canal with a cargo of foodstuffs worth $250,000.

War News Summarized

Having rested and with fresh reinforcements to their suport, the German troops who have been battling in Belgium and the north of France for what seems to be almost interminable period, are renewing their efforts to push their way through the French, British and Belgian lines to reach the much desired ports on the English channel. Not only here, but in the Argonne, and the Woevre district, the fighting has been of the fiercest character. It is said that the thundering of the guns of the British warships off Ostend can be heard on the English coast.

In all Ithese engagements the dead and wounded are multiplying but there are thousands to take their places. The transport of the wounded into the zone of safety where they can receive proper attention is proving a problem that has not yet been solved; hospitals and surgeons are inadequate for the care of those who have fallen.

While the larger ships of the German navy remain under the protection of their harbors the submarines continue to show activity and another British cruiser has been sent to the bottom as a result of a raid by one of these destructive boats. The official announcement of the sinking of the light cruiser Hermes in the Straits of Dover gives no details except that she was destroyed by a German submarine and that most of her officers and men were saved.

Because of the attack on her coast towns on the Black sea by Turkish warships, Russia has instructed her ambassador at Constantinople to announce to the sublime port the severance of diplomatic relations and his prospective departure from Constantinople. According to messages reaching Washington from the Turkish capital, war has been officially declared between Turkey and Russia, but this is hardly to be considered likely, as both Russia and Great Britain have demanded an explanation from the porte of Turkey's action and are awaiting a reply.

eanwhile some of the warships under the Turkish flag have destroyed a number of vessels of the Russian navy and it is reported from Constantinople by way of Rome that the Russian fleet had attacked the Turkish fleet in the Black sea off the Crimean coast.

The British government correspondent with the Russian army Professor Benard Pares, in describing the defeat of the German forces near Warsaw ventures the opinion that there is little liklihood of a further German aggressive movement in that region before winter.

Russian official reports claim progress in several districts on the east Prussian frontier and the repulse of the Germans, after five days of fighting, who had been endeavoring to break through the Russian center in the Balkan region.

There is a serious ministerial crisis at Rome where one of the ministers, Signor Rubini, has resigned and Premier Salandra is faced with the possibility of having to form a new ministry. The crisis has been brought about by the question which has arisen over what part Italy is to take in the European war.

POWER TAKEN FROM PRESIDENT TROUT

RESOLUTION IS HURRIEDLY ADOPTED AT CLOSE OF CONVENTION

Amendment is So Quickly Accepted That Few of the Friends of the President Realize Its Importance —Other Officers Are Elected.

Chicago, Oct. 31.—Power to appoint delegates to the national convention was taken from the president in a resolution hurriedly adopted today in the closing minutes of the convention of the Illinois Equal Suffrage Association. This amendment to the constitution, offered by Mrs. Antoinette Funk, was accepted so quickly that few of the friends of Mrs. Grace Wilbur Trout, re-elected president, realized its importance.

According to the amendment presidents of the organization affiliated with the state association may each send one name of a member willing and qualified to serve as a delegate. The national delegates must be chosen from this number. If there lacks a representation after these nominations have been made the board of directors may complete the Illinois delegation from its own selections.

The convention officially adjourned at noon but a large number of delegates met later in the day in another hall in the same hotel. For several hours they placed with questions Mrs. Medill McCormick, Mrs. Funk, Jane Addams and Sophonia Breckinridge, who made statements, they said they were not permitted to make on the floor of teh convention.

"This meeting was not called for the purpose of considering the organization of a new suffrage association", Mrs. McCormick said later. "This question was not even thought of, much less considered. Neither was there any discussion of choosing a second delegation, one which would represent our views, to send to the national convention at Nashville, next month. The differences of opinion which have made this convention a stormy one will not even be brought up at the national convention so far as I know."

Other officers elected were Mrs. G. A. Soden, Chicago, first vice-president; Mrs. H. M. Brown, Peoria, second vice president; Mrs. Judith Lowenthal, Chicago, recording secretary; Mrs. E. L. Stewart, Chicago, corresponding secretary; Miss Jennie Johnson, Chicago, treasurer; Mrs. W. F. Carr, Ottawa, auditor.

ILLINOIS WINS FROM WESLEYAN

MOST SPECTACULAR BATTLE FOUGHT IN YEARS.

Coach Harmon's Powerful Scoring Machine Makes Final Count 20 to 17.—Illinois in Line for Championship.

Bloomington, Ill., Oct. 31.—Wesleyan university was defeated by Coach Harmon's powerful Illinois college machine on Wilder field Saturday afternoon. The final count was 20 to 17. It was the most spectacular and gruelling battle fought on Wilder field in years and the result was doubtful until the last minute of play.

The visiting team presented one of the most piercing attacks centered at a Wesleyan team this season and at times the Wesleyan scoring cogs were working in real championship regularity. By winning this struggle, Coach Harmon's athletes have placed themselves into the semi-finals of the minor college football race.

Illinois college has a great scoring machine. They came from behind on their occasions and scored when at times they seemed helplessly beaten. Captain Alford, Frisbee, Stewart and Mitchell were a quartet which the Wesleyan defense found impossible to stop at times.

Coach Harmon has educated his team to a direct passing game that added many sensational minutes to the struggle.

Scoring:

Touchdowns—Dunham (2), Alford (2). Stewart, Drop kick—Dunham. Goals from touchdown—Dunham (2), Frisbee (2). Referee—Rowe, University of Illinois. Umpire—Madden, Normal University. Head linesman—Eyer, Bloomington.

"On the East Prussian front the plan for breaking through the center of our fortified positions around Bakalrzewo projected by the enemy has failed. "Our troops have progressed in several districts on the East Prussian front.

"Beyond the Vistula we occupy strongly the towns of Gostynin, Lenczica, Lodz and Ostrovec.

"In Galicia, the fighting continues without any essential change in the situation."

"Fierce attacks were attempted yesterday morning by the enemy in the neighborhood of Ramscapelle and Pervyz. The second of these attacks was repulsed with great losses. The first forced our troops to cede some ground which later was partially retaken.

"In the afternoon the inundation extended from between the Yser and and the railway at Nieuport to Dixmude and reached the neighborhood of Pervyse.

"Before the front between Dixmude and Huyghen there was no important fighting. The allied troops were able to cross the Yser and to gain ground. Toward the east the enemy lost Bixschoote and are only maintaining their position at Passchendaele (six miles northeast of Ypres) with difficulty.

CHICAGO UNION STOCK YARDS QUARANTINED

PREVENTS SHIPMENT OF CATTLE EXCEPT FOR IMMEDIATE SLAUGHTER

Action by Department of Agriculture is Considered Necessary to Prevent the Spreading of the Foot and Mouth Disease—Quarantine Goes Into Effect Immediately.

Washington, Oct. 31.—The department of agriculture today quarantined the Union Stock Yards at Chicago to prevent shipment of cattle except for immediate slaughter, because of foot and mouth disease.

This explanation of the government's action was issued at the department:

"Because of the danger that cattle infected with the foot and mouth disease may have passed through them, the Union Stock Yards in Chicago have been quarantined by the secretary of agriculture. This quarantine goes into effect immediately.

"Under the provisions of this quarantine, no cattle, sheep or swine can be moved from the stock yards in interstate or foreign commerce, except for the purpose of immediate slaughter and under permits issued by federal inspectors. In such case they must be transported in sealed cars placarded 'for immediate slaughter.' The stock in these cars can only be unloaded in reserve pens, which have been designated for this purpose by the chief of the bureau of animal industry. Cars used for the transportation of stock from the yards must be thoroughly cleansed and disinfected before they can be moved again in interstate or foreign commerce. Shipments of stock into the yards from uninfected areas must be unloaded through cleaned and disinfected docks and alleyways under the supervision of the federal officials. When re-loaded the stock must be placed in cleaned and disinfected cars and the cars officially sealed.

"These measures are considered essential to the prevention of the spread of the disease.

"Foot and mouth disease is one of the most contagious infections known and if it were possible to move stock from the Chicago yards to the country for feeding or dairy purposes, there is grave danger that the disease might be disseminated over large areas.

"Up to the present time no case of foot and mouth disease has been found in the union yards but there is reason to believe that infected stock may have passed through. It is at least certain that shipments of stock to Chicago have been from regions where the foot and mouth disease has broken out."

Effects Only Part of Receipts.

Chicago, Oct. 31.—The quarantine placed on cattle and sheep at the Union Stock Yards by the government today, as a precaution because of the prevalence of the foot and mouth disease in southern Michigan and northern Indiana, effects only about 10 per cent of the receipts and is for ten days only, according to W. J. O'Connor, assistant general manager of the stock yards company.

"The order affects only those cattle which are sent here to be fattened before slaughter," he said. "Its only efect will be for the time being to reduce this class of receipts. Growers who want their animals fattened before selling to the packers will simply hold them back until the ban is lifted. There has been none of the disease at the yards nor any symptoms of it."

I. C. OFFICER HERE.

W. L. Parks, vice president of the Illinois Central railroad, came to Jacksonville yesterday in his private car over the Alton to spend a few hours with relatives. While here Mr. Parks was the guest of F. E. Farrell for an auto drive about the city. The railroad man was taken past the C. P. & St. L. shops, the bridge works, Capps' factory, out to Nichols park and along some of the residence streets. After the trip he declared that Jacksonville is one of the prettiest cities he has ever visited and that the signs of substantial business interests are unmistakable. J. J. Reeve, A. M. Masters and Bernard Gause also accompanied Mr. Parks on his "seeing Jacksonville" trip.

CONFESSES MURDER OF WIFE AND CHILDREN

KILLS HIS FOUR BABES AND THEIR MOTHER BY DYNAMITING HIS HOME

Scott Stone of Tolona Makes Written Confession of Awful Crime—Thought They "Would Be Better Off in Heaven". — Infatuation With a Champaign Woman is Motive For Crime.

St. Louis, Oct. 31.—Scott Stone, a United States army recruit at Jefferson Barracks, near here, who was arrested yesterday at the request of the state's attorney of Champaign county, Ill., today made a written confession that he had murdered his wife and four children near Tolona, Ill., on September 28.

He killed them, according to his confession, by dynamiting his home. He himself fled from the house after he had lighted the fuse that set off the explosive. Fire followed the explosion. In the ruins of the house the bodies of Mrs. Stone and two children were found, but the bodies of the other two children were not recovered, fire probably having destroyed them.

The motive of the crime, according to the confession, was that Stone might go away with a Champaign woman whose name he gave as Lucille. Her last name, he said, he could not remember. An order for the arrest of the woman was made by telegraph from here today.

According to the confession, Stone, on the afternoon of September 27, took his wife and four children, all small, buggy riding. They returned home at 7:30 p. m. and went to bed at eight o'clock, all sleeping in the same room. The three older children slept at the foot of Stone's bed and the youngest child with the mother. Detailing the crime Stone said:

"Between 1 and 2 o'clock I got out of bed and went to the barn where I had hidden ten sticks of dynamite in the wheat bin. I put the dynamite on a table in the center of the kitchen and ran eighteen feet of fuse from it to the back door. I then went out doors and lit the fuse. I went to the front gate and leaned over the mailbox. A few minutes later I heard the explosion and I began calling for help.

"Our nearest neighbors, Charles Nicholls and his son John, came running up. They had not heard the explosion but they had seen the light of the fire. They helped me carry out some of my furniture."

Stone said that townspeople then arrived and also helped him carry out his furniture. A detective interrupted him at this point and asked: "Did you tell any of these persons that your family was burning up in the house."

Stone replied in the affirmative and continued that he had remained on the premises from between 5 and 6 o'clock in the morning. He added:

"I thought my family would be better off in heaven."

"What do you mean by that?" was asked.

"With my spending money and time on the other woman", Stone replied. "I did not think I was treating my family right and I decided they would be better off dead."

Married Seven Years.

Stone who is 28 years old, said that he had been married seven years. His arrest here yesterday was due to the story of a woman who told the states' attorney of Champaign county that Stone wanted her to go west with him and pose as his wife. According to the story Stone met this woman the day before the fire and told her the next day he would be in jail or she would see his name in the papers. The day after the fire Stone met the woman according to the story, and said he had obtained the kind of a divorce he wanted. At the inquest, however, Stone denied some of the features of the story related to the prosecutor.

Stone enlisted in the army at Mattoon, Ill., October 16 under an assumed name. A week ago he was sent to the recruiting station at Jefferson Barracks. News of his presence here reached the states' attorney and his arrest was ordered.

The children who perished in the fire were Violet, aged 5; Wilbur, aged, 4; Marcella, aged 3, and Vernice, aged 2.

Will Be Transferred Secretly.

Champaign, Oct. 31.—Scott Stone who it is said confessed today in St. Louis that he had murdered his wife and four children near here in September will be brought here tonight with the greatest secrecy because of the indignation which his alleged confession has aroused throughout this county.

The children planned the contributions themselves and are greatly interested in the project.

RESUME ATTEMPTS TO REACH PORTS

Germans Renew With Energy Attempts to Reach French Channel Ports

AWFUL BATTLE RAGING

Conflict Is Raging With Fury That Marked Opening of Last Phase of This Campaign

FLOODS CHECK INVADERS' ADVANCE

London, Oct. 31—The German attempts to reach the French channel ports were resumed with energy yesterday. The Germans undertook general offensive tactics from the coast at Nieuport to Arras and while tney made progress some points they were repulsed at others and in some cases were compelled to give ground. Near the coast their advance was checked by an extension of the flooded area.

Today the battle is raging with the fury that marked the opening of the last phase of this compaign and even on the English coast the boom of the big naval guns which are bombarding the invaders' flank could be heard.

Bring Up All Their Forces

The Allies have brought up land and sea forces in an endeavor to check this second effort of the Germans to establish themselves on the French coast, from which they hope to menace England.

The German official report issued early today announced that the eGrman troops have occupied Ramscapelle, which is on the railway and canal between Nieuport and Dixmude but the French official communication of this afternoon says they were driven out by a counter attack. Doubtless the extension of the flooded area which now reaches beyond this town made the German positions untenable.

Bottle Front Little Changed.

On the whole, therefore, it would appear that the situation on this most important battle front remains much as it was when the Germans, through exhaustion a few days ago ceased their heavy artillery fire for rest. The French report tells of various advances and losses but these usually, so far as distanct is concerned, can be marked in feet or yards and the advance a few days ago by the British in Belgium or 1,-400 yards was considered remarkable.

Throughout the great battle front there has been repetition of attacks and counter-attacks, with at times pronounced thinning of the lines, whether they have gained a slight advance or have been thrown back. The Germans made a particularly violent attack east of Soisson on the Aisne and according to the German report drove the French across the river.

Reports that Lille has been reoccupied by the French and that Ostend has been evacuated by the Germans lack confirmation and are considered premature but around the former citw fighting of a most desperate character has been going on and the villages surrounding Lille have been taken and re-taken time after time.

On East Prussian Frontier.

The east Prussian frontier is again the scene of a big battle. The Germans for five days carried out heavy offensive movements but according to the Russian roports were repulsed with immense losses.

In Poland the Germans are reported to be falling back to new positions near their own frontier, while in Galicia the fighting continues without any material change.

The situation created by Turkey's attacks on Russian towns in the Crimes and upon Russian ships in the Black sea should soon be cleared up as Great Britain and Russia have presented to the Sublime Porte for an explanation of the incidents, the dismissal of the German officers and men from Turkish warships and the dismantling of the Goeben and the Breslau, the former German cruisers, until the end of the war.

Turkey's reply may be delayed and it was announced tonight that telegraphic communication with Turkey was interrupted. It is not yet clear what damage the Turkish fleet has done, although reports from different sources say that four Russian torpedo boats, a mine-layer, a collier and a coast guard ship have been destroyed.

It is believed here that Russia has made preparations to protect her Caucasuian frontier but that she will not attempt to invade Turkish territory for the present. Probably the same attitude will be adopted by England in Egypt, which according to an unconfirmed report received today has already been invaded by three thousand Bedouins.

One of Great Britain's difficulties will be the protection of the oil fields which she recently acquired in Persia. Indian troops can be brought up for this purpose.

There is much speculation as to what action the Balkan states and Italy will take in view of Turkey's entrance into the struggle, but as yet there has been no definite statement on this subject.

A vote for John J. Reeve for county judge will help in the election of an experienced and able lawyer, a man of the very best character and reputation.

For many years George Stice has lived in Morgan county and he is known as a successful farmer and stock raiser. He is familiar with property values and as assessor and treasurer would give every citizen a fair deal. He is a safe man for the position he is seeking.

The office of county superintendent of schools is one of very large responsibility. The superintendent has entire charge of the schools of the county along certain lines and so he comes in touch with all of the boys and girls of school age. H. A. Withee is fitted for the office by experience and training.

Thomas Hughes is a young man of good repute. He has earned the respect of the people of this community by honesty of purpose and hard work. Experience of several years in the office of the county clerk has given him a knowledge of the work there and he is well qualified for the office and deserving of confidence and support.

Is Qualified for Sheriff.

If Grant Graff is elected sheriff of Morgan county next Tuesday an officer who knows the laws and who is ready to enforce them will be on duty. Mr. Graff is a man of strong character, a man who believes in the strict enforcement of law and the peace of the county in his hands would be safely guarded. He has grown up from boyhood in this county and is personally popular in all parts of the county. The voters will do well to remember the importance of this office and the qualifications of this candidate.

A Minority Member.

If Allinson Thomason is elected a member of the county board both Democrats and Republicans will be represented. That it is desirable to have both parties directly represented upon the board is conceded by many voters. Th added fact that Mr. Thomason is a man of such high class and so well known for his efficient business methods will have large influence next Tuesday when the voters of this county are studying their ballots.

The Farmer's Club.

Jacksonville is dependent upon the surrounding country and the fact that Jacksonville is located as it is means much to the country. The city and the country are interdependent and the Farmer's club cannot only better farming conditions but can also lay emphasis upon this fact of city and country relationship to the advantage of both. The club as Dr. Hieronymus suggested yesterday can develop community interest to the advantage of the farmer and the advantages resulting will also be of benefit to the city.

The Barbecue.

Business men generally were of the opinion yesterday that the barbecue was one of the most successful events ever given in Jacksonville. The purpose was simply to extend special courtesies to visitors from the country and to offer something unusual in the line of entertainment. The roads are in excellent condition and the weather was so ideal that the square and streets adjacent were thronged with people the larger part of the day. When there are visitors in the city from the country precincts business deserves congratulations. Getting people to come to Jacksonville is the problem for merchants to meet from week to week and Saturday furnished a good example of what can be accomplished in this line.

The Gage in Illinois.

St. Louis Globe:

Postmaster General Burleson has just said, at Peoria, that the administration at Washington would be glad to have Roger C. Sullivan elected to the United States Senate. It is plain that the stage had been carefully set for the making of this declaration. In introducing Mr. Burleson to the audience, Henry M. Pindell, a prominent Democrat in Illinois, and who has a well-proved claim of being "the original Wilson man" of the entire country, said: "He is one who comes to us with the voice of authority; one who speaks for President Wilson." Accordingly, it must have been Mr. Wilson speaking when Mr. Burleson said: "Sullivan says he stands with Wilson, and the administration believes he will keep his word. We do not know what Sherman or Robins would do if either was elected. We do know what Sullivan will do, and we want Sullivan."

This gage of battle having now been openly thrown down, Illinois Republicans should take it up without hesitation, fear or trembling. It would be sheer folly to attempt doing anything else. At the election of two years ago there were 200,000 more Illinois voters who didn't want Wilson than who did want him. The whole question turns upon whether his administration has been so rich and fruitful in its results that this balance has been overcome. If Illinois is now a land flowing with milk and honey; if all labor can find ready and steady employment there, under low tariffs and the doubts growing out of long-suspended financial laws; if Illinoisans are so well situated that war taxes in time of peace are a pleasure to them; if they have realized, in Illinois, the reduction in the cost of living promised first as a result of free trade and next as a result of antitrust legislation which is now, at the last, emasculated—then it might be dangerous to face this issue squarely. The party leaders there should know best.

Boies Penrose.

Hon. Boies Penrose, the veteran senator from Pennsylvania, who has served seventeen years, and is again on the stump in the most bitter fight of his career, was born in Philadelphia Nov. 1, 1860. After graduation from Harvard, in 1881, he practiced law in Philadelphia. In 1884 he entered the political arena and won a seat in the Pennsylvania House of Representatives, later going to the state senate. In his career at Washington, he has been classified as a stand-pat Republican. His Democratic opponent at the polls on Tuesday next is Hon A. Mitchell Palmer, who has the backing of President Wilson. Hon. Gifford Pinchot, forest conservationist, is making it a three cornered fight, and in his campaign has the backing of Colonel Roosevelt. Senator Penrose makes his home in Philadelphia and Washington.

PITFALLS FOR CITY MAN WHO WANTS TO BE A FARMER

CARE SHOULD BE TAKEN TO GET A GOOD FARM AT A FAIR PRICE.

Department of Agriculture Advises Him to Try it Out as a Farm Hand for Several Years Before Tying Up His Savings in a Farm.

The Department of Agriculture receives many letters from city people who have read glowing accounts of the wealth that may be made on the farm. A large percentage of these people have already bought farm land. Some of them appear to believe that the reason all farmers are not rich is because of extravagance, wastefulness, ignorance, and a lack of business ability To these letters the department's specialists reply much as follows:

"As a matter of fact, farmers as a class are intelligent, industrious, and economical, and many of them are men of good business judgment. Further, those who have made a thorough study of the business side of farming know that it is not an easy matter to make money on the farm. Only the most practical and experienced farmers are making any considerable profit out of their business. Most of the money that has been made on the farm in recent years has been made, not by farming, but by the rise of price on farm lands. In the nature of things this rise can not continue indefinitely, and some one will own this land when the price becomes practically stationary or perhaps starts to decline.

"While it is true that occasionally a city bred family makes good on the farm, this is the exception and not the rule. It is always a risk to invest in a business without first making a thorough study of that business. Many city people who have saved up a few hundred dollars and who have had little or no farm experience, but who are imbued with a rosy vision of the joys and profits in farming, buy poor land at high prices and thereby lose the savings they have been years in accumulating. One city family paid $10,000 and assumed a $12,000 mortgage on a farm worth only about $11,000. Another paid $2,000 cash and signed a mortgage for $6,000 on a farm that was later appraised at $3,000. A city family that had saved $2,000 used this money to make a first payment on cheap farm land, and when their eyes were opened found they still owed considerably more than the farm was worth. For seven years they have worked almost night and day to meet the interest, without being able to reduce the principal. These instances could be multiplied almost indefinitely.

"In purchasing a farm great care should be taken to get a good farm at a fair price. To pay or agree to pay more than the farm is worth is to invite failure. From a business standpoint no farm that does not pay interest on the total investment, depreciation on equipment, and wages for all labor performed on that farm is successful.

"Even when great care is taken in making the investment only in exceptional cases should the city bred family attempt farming. Generally the best advice that can be given to the city bred man who desires to become a farmer is that before purchasing a farm he work as a farm hand for two or three years. This will give him an opportunity to learn at first hand many things about the business, as well as the practical side, of farming. In no other way, as a rule, can he get good farm training and experience at less trouble and expense or without danger from financial disaster."

RAILROAD SECURITIES HELD ABROAD

Washington, Ost. 31—Statistics have been gathered which show that over five billions in American railroad stocks and bonds are held abroad. In response to inquires directed to American roads, replies have been recieved from 114, and estimating from the figures quoted, which are based by the roads on the dividend checks, the round figures of five billions were reached. The reporting corporations show foreign holdings of 9.15 per cent of the list.

The importance of this fact at this time is that these immense foreign holdings form the stumbling block to the reopening of fthe security exchanges, except with restrictions to prevent free and open trading.

Foreigners in the troubled zone not only find difficulty in liquidating their own securities, but they must accept most severe reductions in values. Naturally, in order to obtain funds they will sell that upon which the sacrifice is the least; where the best price may be realized. American stocks and bonds, if the market was wide open would come over in vast quanities.

CITY INVESTIGATION AT HAMILTON, ONTARIO.

Hamilton, Ont., Oct. 31—Sensations are expected to be sprung on Monday, when Judge Snider will resume the judicial investigation of municipal affairs. "No one will be protected in this inquiry" declared Judge Snider, "If any one knows anything wrong let him come forward and tell us about it. I don't care who it hits, from the head of the municipality down." The disappearance of a large quantity of oil bought by the city will be one of the matters investigated,

David Wilson for County Commissioner

(Editorial from Jacksonville Courier.)

Much has been said during recent times about the unfairness of having nearly all state officials of Illinois and both United States senators of Illinois located in the city of Chicago. And much has been said about the unfairness of having all the members of the general assembly from the Forty-fifth senatorial district located in Sangamon county, to the exclusion of Morgan county. Without undertaking to discuss the merits of the points raised in connection with the larger territory involved in these two situations we direct the attention of Morgan county voters to a problem of somewhat similar nature nearer home and capable of easier solution at the coming election.

The board of county commissioners controls the business aqairs of the county. The board is composed of three members, Mr. Roegge lives in Meredosia precinct, at the extreme west of the county. Mr. Coultas lives in Jacksonville precinct, located well toward the center of the county. These members have one year and two years yet to serve. The present Democratic candidate for election to the board is David Wilson, who lives in Nortonville precinct, located in the south and east part of the county. Upon geographical lines Mr. Wilson is by far the most logical candidate for the place.

It is not, however, entirely upon the geographical situation that Mr. Wilson should be elected. He is a successful farmer and a man of sound judgment and great ability in business affairs. The county board should be made up of men of this kind, and Mr. Wilson meets all the requirements in an admirable manner.

GIRLS! DRAW A MOIST CLOTH THROUGH HAIR.

Try This! Hair Gets Thick, Glossy, Wavy and Beautiful at Once.

Immediate?—Yes! Certain?—that's the joy of it. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a Danderine hair cleanse. Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few week's use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it, surely get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and justy try it. —Advertisement.

CHEAPNESS IN ROAD BUILDING OUR MOST EXTRAVAGANT LUXURY

First Cost is a Minor Item in Road Economy—Advantages of Brick Roads.

Cheapness in road construction is our most extravagant luxury.

A good road is one that fits its traffic.

First cost is a minor item in road economy. The way to figure economy is to measure it by the condition of the road to bear most easily the traffic to which it may be subjected.

These and other highway precepts were laid down by James T. McCleary, highway engineer of Cuyahoga county, Ohio, adjoining Cleveland, Ohio, during the greater part of the time when that county's 400 mile system of brick roads were constructed. McCleary was assigned to speak before the Northwestern Road Congress here on methods of brick construction, but he also paid his respects to what he called the "literary and oratorical side of highway building."

"For arousing public interest," he said, "the literary and oratorical forces should receive commendation. They would be subject to no criticism if they rested at this point, but they have usurped the place of the engineer in telling the public what kind of roads to build and what kind not to build."

"The most ambitious schemes of inter-county highways do not cover more than a tenth of the total rural mileage. The cheaper forms of road construction must always survive for the less traveled roads. For the main roads, permanence is the only worthy criterion."

The roads radiating from Cleveland, he said, proved that the cost of repairs on brick roads is negligible for the first two decades, providing brick is properly laid.

Has Fine Action in the Blood

Does Real Work in Cleaning Body of Impurities.

It is to the skin that blood impurities are driven by Nature. And it is in the skin that S. S. S., the famous blood purifier, has its most pronounced influence. For it is here that you see the results. S. S. S. is none the less effective in the joints, glands and mucous surfaces in driving out rheumatism, overcoming boils and ridding the system of catarrh.

The purely vegetable ingredients in S. S. S. are naturally assimilated but they enter the blood as an active medicine and are not destroyed or converted while at work. It is this peculiar feature of S. S. S. that makes it so effective. It stirs into action all the forces of the body, arouses digestive secretions, stimulates the blood circulation to destroy disease breeding germs.

Upon entering the blood S. S. S. is carried throughout your body in about three minutes. And in a brief time it has any blood trouble so under control that it no longer can multiply. Gradually new flesh is formed in all broken-down tissues and the skin takes on the ruddy glow of health. Be sure and get a bottle of S. S. S. today of any druggist, but avoid all substitutes.

Around the bottle is an illustrated circular that tells you how to obtain special free advice in quickly overcoming serious blood disorders. S. S. S. is prepared only by The Swift Specific Co., 59 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

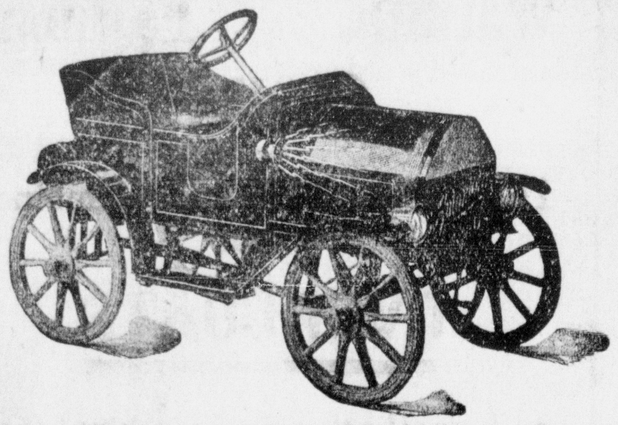

Horrors of War

They are still fighting over there, through Europe armies leave their tracks; and Uncle Sam to make things square will soon impose a special tax. It's not for us to boldly trek o'er sodden fields, with lifeblood damp, but every time we write a check we'll have to use a two-cent stamp! So let us rise, an angry horde, and call upon the scrapping kings to throw away the gun and sword, and let the White Dove wave its wings. We cannot calmly view war's wreck, the dying soldiers in their camp, when every time we write a check, we have to use a two-cent stamp. We thrill with horror when we read of legions marching to be slain, of heroes going forth to bleed and die upon a foreign plain; what though the grim survivors deck the graves with wreaths, as on they tramp Full soon, whene'er we write a check, we'll have to use a two-cent stamp! The dread of war comes home to us e'en though in balmy peace we dwell, as drearily we sit and cuss our enemy H. C. of L. While Europe gets it in the neck, while captains shout and chargers champ, Americans who write a check must stick thereon a two-cent stamp.

Vote for

A. D. Arnold

Democratic Candidate

for

SHERIFF

(Editorial from Jacksonville Courier.)

A. D. Arnold, Democratic candidate for sheriff of Morgan county, is the logical man to elect to that office. No man lives in the county whose word is more to be relied upon than is that of Mr. Arnold, and when he makes the positive statement, privately and publicly, that he will absolutely enforce the laws there is absolutely no doubt that he will do that very thing. And, in addition, there is no question that he is able to do as he says he will do.

The fact that Mr. Arnold has made not a single promise of appointment or patronage from his office, if he is elected, is a strong point in his favor. Although this same policy has been pursued by all the present Democratic candidates for county office, it is perhaps somewhat more noticeable in the case of the sheriff's office because candidates for this place seem to be importuned more than others for pre-election promises. Mr. Arnold is "tied up" with no individual or group, and his election therefore means that he will be free to conduct the office without hindrance from the outside. There is absolutely no good reason why any person seeking the best interests of Morgan county should not vote for Mr. Arnold.

"Ade" Arnold is one of the most prominent farmers in the county, living a few miles east of Jacksonville. He is a young man of wide acquaintance and much ability. His extensive acquaintance—a good thing for a sheriff to have—is indicated by his membership in the I. O. O. F., K. of P., B. P. O. E., M. W. A., I. O. R. M., F. O. E., O. O. O., and T. P. A.

ILLINOIS DEFEATS MINNESOTA 21 TO 6

STATE SCHOOL'S CHANCES FOR PREMIER HONORS BRIGHT

Neither Side Is Able to Score in First Three Periods at Minneapolis—Illinois Tears Through Gopher Defense In Final Quarter for Three Touch Downs—Badger-Maroon Battle Scoreless—Harvard Defeats Michigan.

Minneapolis, Oct. 31.—Minnesota's western championship hopes were shattered and Illinois' chances for premier honors stand out brightly on the football horizon as a result of the latter's 21 to 6 victory over the Gophers today in one of the most bitterly contested games ever played on Northrop field.

Old football, new football, strategy and luck all failed to produce a count in the first three periods. In the fourth period Illinois opened with a bewildering array of forward passes and sensational line plunges that ripped gaps in the Gopher defense, three times rushing the ball over the line. Minnesota scored its only touchdown in the last few minutes of play when Bierman shot over the line after the ball had been placed within striking distance with a long forward pass. Pogue scored two of Illinois' touchdowns, Clark one and Macomber kicked three goals from touchdown.

The Lineup:

Minnesota	Position	Illinois
Basto	le	Squires
Mayer	lt	Armstrong
Sinclair	lg	Chapman
Rosenthal Captain	c	Captain Watson
Dunnigan	rg	Stewart
Townley	rt	Pelty
Haedge	re	Graves
Erdahl	qb	Clark
Bierman	rh	Wagner
Hamilton	lh	Macomber
Solon	fb	Schobinger

Summary.

Referee—Madigsonn, Michigan. Head linesman—Knight Dartmouth. Time of periods, 15 minutes. Minnesota scoring touchdown—Birman. Illinois touchdowns—Clark, Pogue (2); goal from touchdown, Macomber (3). Substitutes: Minnesota—Scholtes for Haedge; Haedge for Scholtes. Illinois—Pogue for Wagner; Mattson for Armstrong; Armstrong for Mattson; Wagner for Pogue; Pethybridge for Macomber; Rue for Schobinger; Pelty for Nelson; Marquardt for Graves; Nelson for Pelty; Pethybridge for Nelson; Wagner for Watson; Sievens for Chapman; Pogue for Wagner; Macomber for Pethybridge.

No Score in Badger-Maroon Fight.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 31.—For the first time in two years Chicago Maroons today left a gridiron without the laurels of victory. The fighting Badgers nerved to a combat decisive in its character played a game worthy of its independence and outfighting the Chicagoans held them to a pointless draw.

The game was as hard fought as any in the history of the conference and though it lacked in brilliancy there was glory enough for heroes on both sides.

For Wisconsin Bellows was the chief winner of glory, and his accurate, long counts so far outdistanced those of Des Jardien and Russell that the ball for most of the game was on Chicago ground. The loss of Gray, whose twisted leg gave way early in the game weakened the Maroon attack and his great runs were sadly missed, though Russell's fancy dashes and Flood's line drives practically partially made up for them. To the surprise of the spectators, the much heralded "new football" was hardly in evidence. Straight football predominated in the attack on both sides and though at least a dozen forward passes were tried by both teams the opposing backs and ends wrecked nearly all of them.

The Lineup:

Chicago	Position	Wisconsin
Huntington	le	Staverum
Shull	lt	Buck
Stegeman	lg	McMaster
Des Jardien Captain	c	Kennedy
White	rg	Mucks
Jackson	rt	Keeler Captain
Sparks	re	Keeley
Russell	qb	Bellows
Gray	lh	Cummings
Schaefer	rh	Smith
Flood	fb	Kreuze

Summary.

Umpire—Reid, Michigan. Referee—Birch, Ohio Wesleyan. Head linesman—Hutchins, Perdue. Time of periods 15 minutes. Substitutions: Chicago—Coutchie for Gray; Albert for White. Wisconsin—Taylor for Cummings; Hayes for Kreuze.

Princeton and Williams Tie.

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 31.—Princeton and Williams met in football here today and the game resulted in a 7 to 7 tie, the Tigers scoring their touchdown and goal with only two minutes to play. Left Halfback Toolan of Williams was the star of the game. His run of 55 yards from a scrimmage formation being a feature. His forward pass of 14 yards to Overton on the next play resulted in the Williams touchdown, Right Halfback Overton running five yards after catching the ball.

The Princetonians tackling and interference was poor, while Williams had a sterling defense and a crashing attack.

Navy Has Tough Opponent.

Annapolis, Md., Oct. 31.—Navy met a tartar here today in Agricultural and Mechanical College of North Carolina and gained a two point victory, 16 to 14, in the most warmly contested game played on the Navy field in a long time.

The margin of victory was due to a blockade punt which fell behind the A. and M. goal line and was recovered by the visitors for a safety.

Getting the jump on their opponents and scoring first, the Carolinians kept fighting all the time. Their mastery of new football, with many variations of the forward pass, was their greatest asset.

Washington and Drake Tie.

St. Louis, Oct. 31.—Washington and Drake battled to a seven to seven tie here today. Washington scored its points in the second quarter. Potthoff, after a series of line bucks and end runs brought the ball to the Drake one yard from which he plunged through for the touchdown. He also kicked goal. In the third quarter a forward pass of fifty-five yards enabled A. McDonald to cross Washington's goal line. Blackburn then kicked the goal.

Pennsylvania Wins 40 to 6.

Philadelphia, Oct. 31.—University of Pennsylvania football team defeated Swarthmore College on Franklin field today by 40 to 6. The game was good practice for Pennsylvania which will meet Michigan at Ann Arbor next Saturday. The feature of the game was a 95-yard run by Fullback Tucker of Pennsylvania who caught the ball on a kick off and evaded the whole Swarthmore team.

Yale Wins From Colgate.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 31.—Yale won from Colgate today by 49 to 7. The rugby passing game baffled the visitors. In the third period Yale played its entire second team and it was then that Colgate scored. Yale played its regular team again in the fourth period.

The game abounded in spectacular runs by Legore, Ainsworth and Scovil of Yale and West and Swartnout of Colgate.

Syracuse Defeats Carlisle.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 31.—Syracuse University defeated Carlisle here today by 24 to 3. Carlisle's attempts at the open game usually ended disastrously, the Indians' most noteable gains being made by Captain Calac through the Syracuse center.

Harvard Defeats Michigan.

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 31.—Harvard defeated Michigan by 7 to 0 here today in a football game almost devoid of spectacular play and confined to conservate attack and defense. Some twenty-five thousand spectators witnessed sixty minutes of hard fought scrimmage, in which straight football predominated throughout. Neither eleven evinced any particular desire to use the much heralded forward pass or lateral pass and the general advance was achieved by a series of line plunges, spiced with an occasional end run.

Harvard showed to better advantage than the Westerners, displaying stronger defense at critical moments and striking with savage rapidity and skill in the second period of the contest, when the solitary score of the game was made. Both elevens appeared to possess a stronger attack than defense, although the Crimson line and secondary defense held like a stone wall when the Wolverines twice penetrated to Harvard's last five yard line.

BETTER BABIES

The crusade for better babies has spread from coast to coast, and taken firm hold of American Mothers. Few women realize how much the ill health of the mother influences the unborn child, both physically and mentally. Women who suffer from mysterious pains, backache, nervousness, mental depression, headaches, etc., should rely on Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, which for nearly forty years has been the standard remedy for these ailments.—Ava.

HOW TO VOTE FOR ROBINS AND OTHER CANDIDATES

Ballot May Be Cast for Progressive Nominee for U. S. Senator and For Men of Different Parties.

Some voters may hesitate to vote for Raymond Robins for United States senator because they fear that if they attempt to vote any way but a straight Democratic or Republican ticket they will lose their vote.

It is very simple and there is no danger of losing a vote if the following directions are followed:

Place on X in the Democratic circle, thus:

and also an X in the first square in the Progressive column, the third column on the official ballot; thus:

[X] For United States Senator: RAYMOND ROBINS.

and it counts a vote for the entire Democratic ticket with the exception of United States senator and for that office casts a vote for Raymond Robins.

In a like manner an X may be placed in the Republican circle or any other party circle on the ballot and the vote counted for all candidates of that party with the exception of Raymond Robins, if an X is placed in the square in front of his name.

(Paid for by Robins Nonpartisan Club).

HUNDREDS SERVED SATURDAY AT THE SOUTHERN BARBECUE

Immense Numbers Visit Jacksonville and Partake of Toothsome Luncheon in Central Park—Barbecue of Southern Origin.

With more people in the city than have walked the streets since the Ringling Bros. circus and good food for all who came from away, the first barbecue held in Jacksonville was decidedly a success. More than two thousand were served although there was no means of estimating the number with any degree of exactness. General satisfaction with the event was expressed on the part of the merchants and practically all, restaurants included, did a rushing business. The affair was styled an "Old Southern Barbecue" and although in some respects differing from such feasts as held in Tennessee or Texas, was the same in all important particulars. William Jones, the cook, is a former resident of southern Tennessee and he has had experience with barbecues years ago. The Rev. W. E. Spoonts had charge of the coffee and he also has had first hand experience with southern barbecues.

Preparations for the feast were begun Friday and by Saturday noon the young men of the Booster club, assisted by Jacksonville high school students were ready for the crowds that thronged the outside of the enclosure. Men and women were served in a steady line and it was about three o'clock before the food was exhausted and the event concluded. There was provided 550 pounds of beef and about 500 pounds of pork with buns, pickles and unlimited hot coffee and buttermilk for those who so desired. The meat was well cooked and although not seasoned with the peper mixtures of the south, was excellent in flavor and relished by those who partook. The luncheon was served cafeteria fashion and when one had filled his plateñ he was expected to make his way from the enclosure to the seats without.

Democratic Candidate for County Clerk

An Efficient County Officer Who Should Be RE-Elected

(Editorial from Jacksonville Courier)

C. A. Boruff, Democratic candidate for county clerk, was born and reared at Murrayville and has lived in Morgan county all his life, and has always been known as an energetic and hard working young man. Like most men of real merit, Mr. Boruff is the son of poor parents, and being thrown largely upon his own responsibility, was compelled to go to work, which he did with a will and demonstrated that he is thoroughly capable of holding his own in the business affairs of life.

In 1902 he was appointed deputy sheriff, which position he held for four years and his service in that capacity were highly satisfactory to those having business with the sheriffs office. In 1910 he was elected county clerk and has filled this office in his characteristic obliging and efficient manner

This is the general office of the courthouse, and has a greater variety and volume of business than any other office connected with the county government and, therefore, the more familiar the office force is with its numerous branches of business, the better sevcie will the people receive

Mr. Boruff is a member of the Brooklyn M. E. church and is affiliated with many of the fraternal organizations of this city, among which are the I. O. O. F., K. of P., I. O. R. M., M. W. A., L. O. O. M., and M. P. L.

Mr. Boruff is a candidate for re-election to the very important position of county clerk and we feel that the public appreciate the efficient and successful administration of the affairs of this office to such a degree that his re-election is assured. He is the kind of man that people of all classes are more than pleased to support, as they can depend upon a continuation of the same courteus and considerate treatment they have received from him in the past.

PRIOR to 1880 there was no organization, no regulation of hours or shop conditions in the cigar industry. Chaos reigned. Health was bad. Pay was poor. Hours were long and employment unsteady. In addition, the influence of labor in securing remedial legislation was lacking, owing to lack of organization. The birth and growth of the American labor movement brought with it, through its economic strength and its legislative influence the remedial legislation, both in the union and governmental bodies, which has shown remarkable results as regards health in our industries.

The following is taken from a report made by International President Perkins to the membership of the C. M. I. U. of A. It is a compilation of statistics gathered from the locals of the organization in the United States, Canada and Porto Rico. The figures are eminently correct and reliable. They indicate results obtained in the standard of health in the cigar industry through organization.

"In 1888, two years after the adoption of the eight-hour work day, 50 per cent of the deats that year were caused by tuberculosis.
"In 1910, the total number of deaths was 588, of which number tuberculosis claimed 126, or 21 1-2 per cent.
"In 1911, the total number of deaths was 622, of which number tuberculosis claimed 136, or 20 1-10 per cent."

FACILITIES

Perhaps you have always thought that any printing office could do your printing in a satisfactory manner, and we do not say such is not the case, but we do ask you to compare our facilities with that of any other establishment in this vicinity, and then ask you to decide whether or not our facilities are superior. A recent addition to our equipment is a Linotype. We might say that this is the only one in the city in use in a Job Printing Plant exclusively. If you have not seen it, just step in and we will be glad to show it to you.

NOT HOW CHEAP, BUT HOW GOOD!

We are not in the furnace business to see how cheap we can build them. The trade of cheapening is one we never served in apprenticeship. It isn't worth a candle. The only way to get satisfaction out of furnace work is to do it as well as it can be done. We don't claim to have the cheapest furnace, but we do claim to give you more than you can obtain elsewhere. You must not lose sight of the fact that in buying a cheap furnace you pay for what you get, and since the dealer who sells cheap furnaces makes as much profit as the one who puts up a good one, there is a great temptation to use the cheap price as a bait.

The hot air system of heating is growing in popular favor every day because it gives the most perfect circulation and greatest amount of pure fresh air. If you want a perfectly heated home let us install a

Have You Seen This Poster?

It Tells the Story of a Wonderful Heating Stove

We wanted you to get acquainted with the Favorite Base Burner---that's why we had the city covered with these beautiful colored posters that you see everywhere.

We knew that if you once became familiar with the superior points of the Favorite as compared with other base burners---learned that it actually has no equal in beauty, durability, and fuel-economy---you would buy no other heating stove.

The Favorite will keep every part of your house warm all winter, and do it with from 2 to 3 tons of coal. Every square inch of this unequalled stove radiates volumes of heat which constantly circulates throughout the home, maintaining an even temperature, night and day.

The Favorite is built in a plant erected especially for the production of fine stoves. Only expert workmen are allowed to take part in its construction. Sixty years of stove experience are concentrated in it.

The many exclusive features that make the Favorite supreme among heating stoves are all patented, and can be found on no other stove. You will find the principle reason why it is the best in the celebrated Separated Flue construction---and this feature is patented. Why not save two or three tons of coal this winter with a Favorite? You will get more warmth and satisfaction, too.

Here is Our Offer

Put the Favorite in your home. Try it for thirty days, two months, all winter, if you want to. Then, if you do not find that everything we have said of it is true, we will take back the stove, and refund your money. Can you think of a fairer proposition than that?

We could not afford to make this offer if we did not KNOW that the Favorite would back us up and do just what we claim for it. But we are positive that after you once tried the Favorite you would not part with it for twice what it cost you, if you could not get another just like it.

If money counts---if comfort counts---if the health and happiness of your family count---you cannot afford to buy or use any heating stove but the Favorite.

A. R. LAYMAN TO GO TO INTERSTATE BOARD.

Nephew of Judge M. T. Layman Appointed Safety Appliance Inspector.

A. R. Layman, safety appliance inspector with the State Public Utilities commission, has accepted an appointment with the Interstate Commerce commission, commencing November 1.

On April 24 and 25, the United States Civil Service commission examined 2,100 railroad men in 310 centers in the country, for the selection of ten as railroad inspectors. Seventy made a passing grade of which Mr. Layman was the highest.

The examination was a test of the applicant's knowledge of United States safety appliances, laws, and requirements, the standard methods of train operation as prescribed by the American Railroad association.

Mr. Layman was appointed in 1909 by Governor Deneen to his present position and was secured in it by the civil service law in 1911.

Last August the state administration attempted to remove him contrary to the provisions of the civil service law but was restrained by an injunction issued by Judge Creighton at the request of the Joint Railroad Brotherhoods. Prior to Mr. Layman's appointment in this city he was for ten years a locomotive engineer on the St. Louis division of the Illinois Central Railroad company.

EDWARD L. MERRITT

To the People of Morgan County; Why Not Vote for One Who Does Things?

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 30, 1914

Editor Jacksonville Journal, Jacksonville, Ill.

As a Democratic candidate for representative in the legislature I feel that I have special claims on the people of Jacksonville and Morgan county for their suport and upon the Democrats of the county for their votes at the election on November 3rd.

While a member of the legislature during Gov. Altgeld's administration before Morgan county was put with Sangamon county, creating the 45th senatorial district, I gave Morgan county my best services the same as if it had been in my own district, because you were our near and friendly neighbors. Both on the floor of the house and as a member of the committee on apropriations I helped to secure and voted for all measures in which Jacksonville and Morgan county were interested and wanted and I pledge you I will do all I can for the best interests of Jacksonville and Margn county again if elected.

Now that I am a candidate for the house, I hope I may secure the generous support of the Democratic voters of all of Morgan county. My experience as a legislator should and does mean more effective services than any new legislator could reasonably be expected to give you.

Should I succeed as your member I hereby pledge to the Democrats and people of Morgan county I will not know any county line and will not show any partiality to any portion of the district.

All of which is most respectfully submitted.

Your obedient servant,

EDWARD L. MERRITT

JOHN J. REEVE

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR COUNTY JUDGE OF MORGAN COUNTY

(Jacksonville Journal Editorial, October 9.)

John J. Reeve was born and reared on a farm east of Jacksonville, and has lived in the county substantially all of his life, his ancestors having been among the earliest settlers in the county. He began the active practice of law in 1891, in Jacksonville with Morrison & Whitlock; served as City Attorney of Jacksonville from 1895 to 1899, and in 1899 formed a partnership with the late Isaac L. Morrison and Thomas Worthington, under the firm name of Morrison, Worthington & Reeve. This partnership continued until the death of Mr. Morrison in 1901, after which the firm name was Worthington & Reeve until 1912, when Mr. Hugh Green became a member of the firm.

Mr. Reeve's practice has brought him into one side or the other of most of the important litigation in this county, and of as much in adjoining counties.

He is now president of the Morgan County Bar Association, is a member of Grace M. E. church, Grand Master at Arms of the Order of Knights of Pythias. He is also a member of the I. O. O. F., M. W. A., Elks, Masons, including the Order of Knight Templar, a member of the Order of Red Men and of the Court of Honor.

Aside from criminal business, the County Court is now of far greater importance to the people of the county than the Circuit Court, as it handles a much greater volume of business affecting the most intimate business and domestic relations of the people. In all this class of business Mr. Reeve has had a wide experience, including such cases as the settlement of estates, special assessment and drainage matters, criminal cases,, the management of the estates of minors and insane persons, the handling of matters relating to taxation, and such other subjects as necessarily come before the county court. His experience in all this class of business will be of great value to the people of the county, if he is elected county judge, and will save to them a large amount both in time and money. He already knows how to despatch the business of the court and do it promptly. His experience, training and character eminently fit him for the office of County Judge and it is to the interest of the people that a person with these qualifications should be elected to that important office.

THE IMPORTANCE OF THE CITY ENGINEER

PUBLIC GENERALLY UNDERESTIMATES OPPORTUNITIES OF THE ENGINEER.

Engineering Profession is Comparatively New—Competent Engineer is Necessity in an Efficient Administration.

(By Ira O. Baker, Professor of Civil Engineering, University of Illinois, to Illinois Municipal League.)

The fact that the public generally underestimates the opportunities for the city engineer and also the importance of his work is not unnatural; and is probably due to the fact that engineering as a profession is comparatively new, and that consequently the public does not generally understand the functions of the engineer. Not a few people assume that the usual county surveyor is a representative of the civil engineering profession; but in mental equipment and in engineering training the typical county surveyor is far from being a fair representative of the civil engineering profession, and the legal duties of the county surveyor are the simples of surveying. Surveying is only one branch, and usually a minor feature, of the practice of a civil engineer. However the surveying operations connected with the development of a city are important enough to warrant the employment of a really competent engineer; and the failure to have the surveying work properly done and properly recorded often seriously embarrass the administrative officers, and not infrequently leads private citizens to expensive litigation that might have been easily prevented. But, if the only duties of a city engineer were to properly survey lots for private citizens, establish the elevation of a sidewalk, and determine the proper grade for a drain, then it would hardly be wise to consume the time of this meeting in considering the work of the city engineer.

The construction of public improvements involves numerous matters of a real engineering nature; and unless these matters are carefully studied, there may be a useless expenditure of money and perhaps a needless waste of human life. For example, the selection of a form of pavement best suited to the locality or to a particular street is a problem requiring considerable engineering knowledge and skill. Also, the establishment of the best system of grades for a pavement is a matter of importance to both the users of the pavement and the owners of the adjacent property; and a proper balancing of conflicting interests sometimes calls for wise discrimination and a high degree of tact and diplomacy. Again, the planning of the proper disposal of storm water, both on paved and unpaved streets, requires careful consideration, and an error in this respect may flood the cellars of adjacent property and possibly jeopardize the health of some of the citizens. Still again, the construction of an economical but adequate system of sanitary sewers requires a knowledge of the experience of other cities, and also demands a careful study of local conditions; and if such knowledge is not employed, the system may not work efficiently or may soon be outgrown, or the system may be built so large as to be needlessly expensive for a long period in the future. Similar illustrations could be given of opportunities for the employment of engineering knowledge and skill in the planning or the operation of water works and lighting plants, in the buildings of bridges, in the construction of public buildings,etc, etc.

The managers of large manufacturing and mercantile enterprises have pretty generally come to believe in the principles that have just been stated, that is, in the importance of the work of the engineer. Many large corporations employ professional engineers to look after the construction and maintenance of their buildings, power plants, and machinery. It would probably greatly surprise some of you to know the importance that some large corporations attach to engineering advice both in purely engineering matters as well as in some things not ordinarily considered as being connected with engineering operations or with the work of an engineer. While I was preparing this paper an example came to my knowledge that illustrates this point. A city had raised the grade of a street across a creek bottom, and thereby restricted the flood flow of the stream. A manufacturing firm having a plant upstream from the improved street, brought a suit against the city for damage due to back water, but first employed an engineer to prepare the case. Upon the face of this case the manufacturer seemed to have a promising case; but when the city engineer, who was a competent self-reliant man, had investigated the matter and made a report, the city's position was seen to be impregnable. This is only one example of the value of expert engineering services to a municipality.

When we stop to think that an engineer is a man versed in the economical and safe use of building materials, in the efficient operation of machinery, in the erection of buildings, the construction of roads, the building of bridges, etc., it is not surprising that he is able to give valuable advice concerning the conduct and management of large enterprises—both engineering and otherwise. The professional training a civil engineer fits him to become a missionary of science, since he offers to the world the benefits of his technical knowledge. In a peculiar degree the engineer serves the public in his professional work. He serves the public in the building of a bridge, in the construction of a sewer system, in the establishment of a pumping station, in the construction of machinery to do the world's work, in increasing transportation facilities by building roads, pavements, railroads, and canals. In fact, an engineer is responsible for nearly all operations which involve the outlay of large sums of monuey.—Extract of an address.

COTTON CRISIS CONCERNS NATION

VROOMAN DISCUSSES SITUATION CREATED BY EUROPEAN WAR.

Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Asserts Federal Government is Seeking to Avert Disaster by Helping Farmers Market Cotton.

By Carl Vrooman, Assistant Secretar of Agriculture.

In the North and West an occasional grumble is heard because the Federal government is doing all in its power to help the southern farmer market or carry his cotton. A cry has been raised that sectional favoritism is being shown. Such a charge could not honestly be made by anyone really conversant with the facts; by anyone having a real understanding of the nature of the industrial and financial crisis on this side of the Atlantic by the war now raging in Europe.

Suppose this world-war had made grain instead of cotton a drug on the market. What then? What if wheat and corn were used to make clothes of instead of to eat? What would be the status of the folks in the grain belts today with all Europe one battlefield?

Granaries would be choked with grain that would not sell. Folks would be feeding wheat to hogs—perhaps trying to figure out some way effectively to use it for fuel, as they used corn in the middle nineties. Throughout the Midland states there would prevail acute business depression. Farm credits would be nowhere and the average rural family of the grain country would be without ready money. The grain farmer would have bitter proof, that, literally as well as in scriptural metaphor, "man cannot live by bread alone."

Furthermore, the entire country East, West, and South, as well as the Midlands, would feel the financial pinch.

All this if cereals had been textiles.

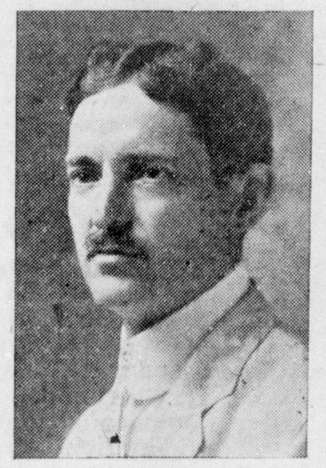

What might have befallen the North in such an event, actually has befallen the cotton states. When war gripped Europe our greatest cash crop suddenly became a liability instead of an asset. In a brief span of days the crop that for generations had been one of the great factors in maintaining our balance of trade, the crop that had promised to add more than a half a billion doliars to the export side of the ledger, slumped in price to a level below that of the cost of production.

Thus the whole fianancial structure of the South was shaken to its very foundation. Farmers found themselves without a market for their staple crop; even without an opportunity to secure loans on that crop. They had no cash to carry forward farm operations. Indeed, every further move they made toward harvesting the crop became an added liability. Thousands found themselves at a stroke face to face with actual poverty, in the midst of what, under normal conditions, would have been plenty. Such paralysis of staple production naturally affected all branches of trade and industry. Today the South is warstricken again—almost as completely as if hostile ships were blockading her ports.

At the same time the entire nation, East, West and Midland as well as South, feels the financial pinch. Northern farmers, almost alone those to whom the war has brought unexpected prosperity through a sensational advance in the prices of wheat and oats, do not yet feel the pinch to any great extent. It is real and tangible nevertheless The fact that grain is food instead of clothing has given us an almost unique immunity from the pinch that has been generally felt already.

Thus it would be very bad ethics as well as bad economics if we northern farmers should now attempt to discredit the efforts of the Federal Government, and of the Department of Agriculture in particular, to aid the cotton farmers in their dire plight and to put the cotton market or a basis that will promise relief to the thousands who are facing financial ruin because of the war. Such a novel wrong be in bad grace if this were merely a sectional issue; it would be particularly odious in view of the fact that efforts made to sustain the cotton market are made to forestall a national calamity.

Here are the facts: We produce two thirds of the cotton of the world. Ordinarily 60 to 65 per cent of the crop has gone abroad. In average years export cotton has brought us from $500,000,000 to $600,000,000. This colossal sum has been the prime bulwark of our gold supply. Last year over 8,000,000 bales were exported. Of these nearly 7,000,000 went to countries that are now at war and too busy fighting to tend their spindles. This year the export of cotton promises to slump to nearly one-fourth the normal. It is estimated that there will be nearly 5,000,000 bales surplus remaining in this country.

Such is the condition that the Federal Government is trying to meet. Not only the Department of Agriculture, through the office of markets and other avenues, but the Department of Commerce, the Treasury Department and even the Department of State are all focusing efforts upon this vital national problem, all seeking to solve the question of handling the surplus cotton in such way as to enable the farmer to break even, or better, and go ahead preparing for the next crop.

This is a question that concerns everybody. It is a cornbelt problem as well as a cotton-belt problem. It concerns Maine as well as eGorgia. Normally the South buys heavily of northern field products and manufactured articles. She pays in money received for her cotton. How can she buy our products if she cannot sell her cotton?

It behooves us farmers of the North fully to appreciate how general is the bearing of the cotton problem; how vitally it concerns all of us. It would be unfortunate indeed if sectional prejudice should arise to cloud the issue at this crucial time when the prosperity of the nation as a whole hangs, in great measure, upon the early restoration of prosperity in the South. It behooves us to face the facts and put petty preudice behind us—thanking out lucky stars that wheat and corn and oats are food instead of clothes.

TO THE VOTERS OF MORGAN COUNTY

I am a candidate for county superintendent of schools.

I have had years of experience in teaching in Morgan county schools and one term as county superintendent.

It is conceded on all sides that I have been successful as a teacher and that I made a good record as county superintendent. I would not ask for the office if I did not feel that my experience as a teacher in every grade in the common school and every year in the high school had not fitted me for the position. Moreover, I am familiar with the work of supervision so essential in connection with the routine work of the office, or work that requires little more than clerical ability.

It is hardly to be supposed that any person can have a very clear conviction of the best method of doing a thing who shall not at first have acquired a rather correct and adequate idea of what is to be done. But to have such idea of a subject and the best method of learning or teaching it, is no light attainment. Certain it is that years of experience in the actual work of teaching and supervision are essential to successful work as county superintendent; while lack of such experience puts all school work on an experimental basis.

The school interests are interests of great importance; not interests to be passed over flippantly as if of no considerable moment, for these interests are interwoven with all the hopes and fears of humanity from the school room to the tomb. It is a far cry from the school to the safety of the Republic; yet the school is to be regarded as the strongest pillar in the structure of our government.

The future of the boys and girls in our schools depends largely upon their work in the school room. If the work be good, their prospects for success, when the school days are no more are enhanced; if the work be poor, their future may be a failure.

This state expends yearly large sums for the education of the youth of our commonwealth; not because of the mere fact that the youth are of her citizenship; but because of the absolute fact that she must educate for her own preservation. As is the school, so is the state; for the children of today are the rulers of tomorrow. The state finds it cheaper to educate than build prisons and establish courts for the prosecution of wrong doers. Thus it will be seen in the ultimate analysis of the question that the safety and permanence of our republic rests upon our schools. In a certain sense education is the cheap defense of a nation, and in the same sense the hope of our country is in her schools.

Recent years have witnessed many changes in school work. The old order is no more and the new education prevails. The present age demands different methods of instruction to be observed as well as different subjects to be taught. The common school has been raised to a higher plane, and those in charge of our higher institutions of learning are looking forward hopefully to the day when all the children of all the land shall have yet better facilities for acquiring knowledge. The late legislative acts aim at better education.

It may not be possible at present to effect all that some think desirable; but, favored as our country is, with great facilities for carrying forward the work, there seem to those who reflect upon the matter and compare the present educational advantages with those of the past, hardly any assignable limits beyond which such improvement may not be carried.

In conclusion I would say that it is for the voters to decide, November 3rd who shall fill the ofice of county superintendent for the ensuing term. I will appreciate the support and influence of every one that favors me, for that important position and if elected will discharge the duties of the office to the best of my ability.

Very truly,
Hart A. Withee.

Democratic Candidate for County Superinten'nt

He Has Had Six Years Experience inConducting This Office

Mr. Vasconcellos as Superintendent.

(Editorial from Jacksonville Courier).

Herbert H. Vasconcellos was chief assistant to Harry C. Montgomery, county superintendent of schools, nearly six years just past, and now is himself county superintendent following Mr. Montgomery's resignation. Prior to taking up this work, Mr. Vasconcellos taught in the Morgan county schools and holds a first grade teacher's certificate. His training in the office of county superintendent was entirely under the personal direction of Mr. Montgom-ery, who is widely known as one of the best men in this work in central Illinois. Mr. Vasconcellos was appointed by the county commissioners to fill the unexpired term left by Mr. Montgomery and will hold the office under this appointement until Dec. 1, 1914.

These facts make Mr. Vasconcellos an unusually strong candidate for election to this office, for which he was nominated by the Democratic party at the September primary. He is a young man in years, but old in experience—much older than the average man of his age. That he is thoroughly qualified successfully to conduct the affairs of the county superintendent's office is beyond dispute. The mere fact that he is now efficiently carying on the business of this branch of county government is proof of this. Any Morgan county school teacher will testify to the fact.

Mr. Vasconcellos is a son of the late Martin Vasconcellos, who died when the present Democratic candidate was 2 years old. The young man worked his way through school and always has been largely thrown upon his own resources. Among his other activities he has made a special study of the school laws of Illinois and is well qualified to give the advice requfred from a county superintendent to the country school directors. The election of Mr. Vasconcellos on Nov. 3 means that the work of the superintendent's office will go on from Dec. 1, 1914, without the interruption incident to a changing of heads. He now has the work well in hand, having assumed the superintendency on Aug. 1, last.

In conducting the business of the county superintendent's office a great deal more than mere ability to teach school is necessary. The work is at least half of a business character and requires one who has had experience in this side as well as experience in actual work. Particularly by his long association with the office has Mr. Vasconcellos developed this ability so that he is essentially the man for the place.

Democrati Candidate for County Judge

His Practice Is Extensive in County and Probate Courts

Especially Fitted for County Judge

(Editorial from Jacksonville Courier).

William E. Thomson, Democratic candidate for county judge, is especially well qualified for this office—one very important reason being that a large part of his practice, more perhaps than any other Morgan county attorney, is in the county and probate courts, over which the county judge has jurisdiction. In addition to this, Mr. Thomson is a young man of keen judgment and fair mind, and his standing is such that there can be no doubt that his judicial decisions will absolutely be fair and impartial.

Mr. Thomson is a native of Menard county and a graduate of the George Washington university at the national capital, one of the best in the United States. Upon completing his university work and receiving his diploma, Mr. Thomson came to Jacksonville to practice and since that time has taken an active part in the community life He has made his way in the world through sahr work and by applying himself in earnest to the tasks before him, and he is deserving of the hearty support of voters in all parties. He will make a county judge of whom the county may well be proud.

Mr. Thomson is so thoroughly familiar with the work of the office to which he seeks election that if he is placed upon the bench he will be able to take immediate hold of the duties and pursue the work without a hitch.

NEW YORK HAS UNIQUE PARADE

New York, Oct. 31—The historical pageant in celebration of the Tercentennary Anniversary of the city of New York, was a brilliant event today, with features unique and many. A reproduction of the DeWitt Clinton train, the first locomotive and train of cars ever run in the United States, was a notable feature, and to contrast it with the modern type, an up-to-date engine made of papier mache, ninety feet long followed in the line. Progress in Hudson river navigation was shown by two floats, one representing Robert Fulton's Clairmont and the other the modern river boat. The original state coach, which conveyed George Washington through the streets of old New York on his way to be inaugurated President of the United States at the old Capitol where now stands the sub-treasury at Broad and Wall Streets, was again drawn through the city, to the delight of the assembled throngs. Still another notable feature was that originated by Postmaster-General Burleson, showing the pony post which carried the mails between New York and Boston during the seventeenth century.

CALHOUN'S GREAT GRAND-DAUGHTER TO WED DIPLOMAT

Calhoun, will be married next month to Baron E. de Nagell, attache of the Legation of the Netherlands at Washington. Miss Calhoun is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Calhoun, of New York. The Baron is the son of Baron W. de Nagell of Bornozelt, Holland, and has been in the diplomatic service for five years. He came to Washington a year ago from Peking.

While no date has been set for the wedding, it will probally take plase late in November.

THE USEFULNESS OF THE SUBMARINE IN WARFARE

NAVY DEPARTMENT'S VIEW OF THEIR EFFECTIVENESS.

Department Officials Set Out in Detail Why it Would Be Disastrous to Abandon Other Naval Construction Entirely in Favor of the Submarine and Point Out the Limitations Which Surround These Little Boats.

Washington, Oct. 31.—Ever since the sinking of the British cruiser Hawke by the German submarine U-9 in the North Sea, the Navy Department has been deluged with letters containing suggestions from individuals all over the country for the improvement of the submarine and for a great extension of its usefulness. Satisfied that most of the writers of these communications had acquired an exaggerated idea of the fighting abilities of the submarine and that there was very present danger of a serious interference with the naval building program and perhaps an almost total suspension of the construction of additional battleships if erroneous ideas obtain common credence, the naval officials have been trying to correct this impression. They have made it a point to reply to each of the letter writers, setting out in detail the reasons why, in the judgment of the department officials it would be disastrous to abandon other naval construction entirely in favor of the submarine, and pointing the limitations which surround these little boats.

These arguments have been reduced to form in the following statement which it may be said accurately represents the views of the technical officers of the navy in regard to the merits of the submarine:

"The land operations of the war have been so overwhelming; and the naval conflicts so comparatively few that the importance of the sea operations of the various nations is apt to be lost sight of. It is the brilliant feats which strike the eye, the dash of the British against Helgoland, the destruction of three cruisers by a German submarine, rather than the slow bearing down by sheer weight of the allied fleet against the whole German coast line.

"So far the submarine has carried off the honors, and at the same time has greatly disappointed its admirers in that it has not done more. It was freely predicted before the war that the day of the dreadnought was passed; that the submarine would drive it from the seas.

"The destruction of the three British cruisers, Hogue, Cressy and Aboukir, by the German submarine U-9, and later the sinking of the Hawke by the same submarine was taken as proof of the impotence of surface craft.

"Nevertheless, the advocates of submarines are beginning to evidence signs of impatience at the paucity of results. They realize that there are over two hundred submarines in the navies of the warring nations, and so far only one has done anything. Not a dreadnought has even been menaced. The cruisers which were struck were old, hastily commissioned with naval reserve crews, two of them were engaged in lowering boats and picking up the survivors of the first when they too were torpedoed.

"The loss of these vessels has had no more effect on the result of the war than the reported capture of a German aeroplane by a British submarine. No one would seriously advocate submarines as a proper weapon to use against aeroplanes, but it is nevertheless reported that an aeroplane which had alighted on the water was captured by a submarine which emerged close at hand.

"The ideal conditions for a submarine attack consist in finding the enemy motionless in the water; then and only then can the submarine hope for success.

"But even so the odds are against the submarine if proper precautions are taken, as is shown by the actions of the allied sea forces which have been shelling the German flank for several days. These vessels have been operating in a very restricted area for some time, certainly sufficiently long for a group of submarines to proceed against them from any German port. Their position has been known to everybody and it would appear an ideal chance for a few submarines to either destroy them or to drive them off. But nothing of the sort has happened. These ships have been left unmolested to harass the German flank, to prevent their approach to the coast, and to enfilade their trenches for several miles inland. They are small vessels of such low speed that they could not escape from a submarine if attacked.

"If the submarine is all that its admirers believe, it is inconceivable why these vessels have been left to interfere so seriously with the major operations of the German army. The fact that they have been so unmolested on an open coast, testifies to the power of the British fleet to protect itself against all forms of attack.

"The war is only at its beginning yet, and many lessons may be learned before its finish, but so far nothing has occurred to encourage the belief that the submarine is supreme; on the contrary it is losing prestige daily. Many factors tend to make the submarine popular as a means of defense—the silence and mystery of its movements, the tremendous power of its blows, the almost limited field for imagination among those who know least of its powers and shortcomings, the always human sympathy for the "Little fellow", the David against Goliath,—all touch a chord in the popular fancy. But the hard facts demonstrated by three months of war show that out of two hundred submarines operating in waters of very restricted extent, the results accomplished have been practically nil. It well behooves our Navy Department to go slow about deciding to increase the number of submarines at the expense of a reduced number of battleships. The possibility of finding a cheap means of making war has a strong fascination, but the teaching of history show that the pursuit of such ideas have always resulted in increased expense in the end."

HOG FEEDERS

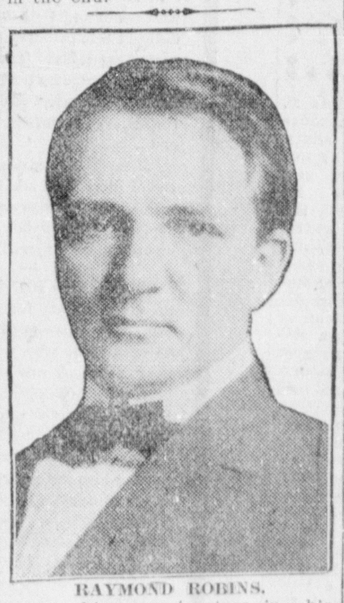

100 bushel size

We have at last discovered the best and healthiest hog feed, it is 1-2 corn and cob meal, 1-3 wheat and 1-6 oats cooked until 10 bushels will make 25 bushels in bulk, then draw off 25 gallons of syrup, and add 50 gallons of water and then add 25 gallons of ground wheat and oats to thicken the slop, feed it warm if possible. This will make 100 gallons of the best slop ever fed a hog.

Come and see 160 head I am feeding on 10 bushels of this mixture of dry grain per day and you surely will be convinced it is the only way to feed. They are running on my wheat stubble sown in colver, all eat regular and perfectly healthy. If I tell you what they are gaining you could not believe it, so come and see them, and you will say they are doing better than hogs fed twice the amount of dry grain.

Yours for producing more beef and pork,

CHARLES WOOD RF.D. NO.6

RAYMOND ROBINS.

Over his own signature in his magazine, Robert M. LaFollette of Wisconsin says:

Senator Owen, progressive Democratic leader, says Sullivan was not a fit man to nominate for United States senator in September, and is not a fit man to elect United States senator in November. He is supporting Raymond Robins, the Progressive candidate.

Honest, brainy, industrious, resolute, no end of courage and physical endurance, with every heart throb for the man who is down—that is Raymond Robins. Everything was against him. He was a coal miner. Pick and shovel, shovel and pick! He dug his way through to an education, then to a place in the legal profession. Alaska challenged him. The peril and the hardship called him most. He faced it eagerly and won a fortune. He has given recent years to study of economic problems as they bear on human life and to some of the most practical social service rendered the country. He has wonderful powers as an orator, whether it be from the pulpit, the political platform, appealing to the better judgment of a body of strikers, or addressing a university convocation. The state that elected Lorimer senator may elect Sullivan, but it would inspire every progressive Republican and every progressive Democrat with hope to fight on if it should elect Raymond Robins to the United States senate.

Politicians rely upon the party name to carry the election for a candidate whose steady record should damn him before all men. They need a lesson everywhere.

Senator Owen sets up the highest standard of party service. It should warn party organizations that a bad nomination binds no man. It should teach all men that he who serves country best, serves party best.

WORLD'S MARKET NEWS

BIG RECEIPTS AT PRIMARY POINTS MAKES WHEAT MARKET FALL BACK

Nearly Twice as Much Wheat Arrives at Principal Terminals as Total Amount a Year Ago.

Chicago, Oct. 31.—Big receipts at primary points made the wheat market fall back today after an early advance. The close was nervous at ¾c under last night. Corn finished unchanged to ¼c down, oats off ¼c to ½c and provisions varying from 10c decline to a raise of 5c.

Nearly twice as much wheat arrived at the principal terminals today as the total amount on the corresponding date a year ago. Besides the figures, for the week exceeded by 2,500,000 bushels the record for the preceding seven days. In this connection, it was said that so much wheat had already been sold to go to Europe that exporters were becoming reluctant to take the risk of contracts which called for shipment during November.

Fine weather put something of a check on the bulls in corn. Account was also taken of the set back in wheat. On the other hand, fresh sales to Europe were reported and it was said that the new federal grading would delay the marketing of a great deal of corn which was moist.

Oats were governed chiefly by the action of wheat and corn. The December option seemed to be under considerable selling pressure from cash houses.

Buyers held off in the provision market, waiting apparently for the monthly report of stocks on hand. Offerings were only moderate.

SENTIMENT OVER BUSINESS PROSPECT MUCH BRIGHTER

Urgent Demand for Food Stuffs and War Supplies From Abroad Continues.

New York, Oct. 31.—Sentiment over the business prospect was decidedly brighter this week even in the steel trade a hopeful note was sounded.

Progress was made in working out the cotton problem, although some financial institutions in the west and other interior points show a lack of enthusiasm for the plan.

Clearing up of contraband questions also helped export buying of copper. Urgent demand for food stuffs from abroad continued and many domestic centers reported buying of war supplies on a large scale.

The nearly normal conditions in foreign exchange which have followed the flood of exports naturally reduce the menace of foreign liquidation of securities but for the time for resuming regular trading on the stock exchanges remains a matter of conjecture. The order of the comptroller of the currency to pass collateral in national bank loans at July 30 prices is calculated to stabilize values of securities but may check the tendency of borrowers to reduce loans.

Noteable easing off money rates is resulting from the imminence of federal reserve bank openings on November 16, with release of cash reserves estimated at over half billion dollars. Marker improvement was shown in investment demand for short term securities.

NOTES OF THE LIVESTOCK MARKET.

The sharp decrease in receipts at Chicago and all the western markets this week resulted in a sharp advance and an unevenly higher market, say Alexander, Ward and Conover, of Chicago. About all kinds shared in the advance, the bulk of the most desirable cattle selling 25@40c over the low point last week, and in extreme cases more. The supply of good to choice cattle has been light, and the demand very strong. Good weight or heavy cattle lacking a little in finish and quality have been in poorest demand and show the least advance.

We are of the opinion that we struck bottom last week on about all kinds, and believe the supply of good to choice corn-fed cattle to be marketed during the next sixty days is very light, and undoubtedly the lightest supply of choice heavy long-fed cattle that we have had for years.

The sharp advance this week will probably bring increased receipts next week and may give us a little setback in the market, but with the northwestern runs about over with for this year and the bulk of the Kansas grassers and southwestern cattle marketed, we look for light or very moderate receipts out of the corn belt for the next thirty to sixty days, and as to the supply going on feed for the later winter and early spring months, there is no doubt about it being unusually light.

Stockers and Feeders.—The supply of stockers and feeders this week has been moderate and the market unevenly higher. The bulk of the good kinds 25c higher. Choice light cattle on the yearling order the scarcest of anything coming.

Butcher Stock.—Advances in butcher stuff this week have been as hard to follow as were declines last week, and a fortnight of such wild fluctuations in values as that now closing has not been experienced in recent years. Last week it was simply a case of congestion leading to demoralization, and at the close of that period everything was selling below its legitimate value. This week, in response to moderate marketings, with additions to Packingtown killing forces, the reaction has been marked. Canners and cutters are closing fully 25@40c higher than late last week, and this quotation conservative, many of the cutter cost being at least 50c higher. Only old shells are slow.

In fat cow and heifer classes there is nothing, outside of the primest grade, which lost little last week, that will not show a full 50c advance, and the bulk of the supply is selling a big 50@75c higher than last Friday; in fact, there were trades in handy weight heifer stuff between $6.50 and $7.50 as much as $1 higher than low spots struck last week, when the trade was thoroughly demoralized.

Everything in the way of bulls now selling above $5.50 is 15@25c higher than late last week.

The calf market closing steady with last week.

HOGS—The hog market Friday will average steady to 5c lower. Trade rather active, but top is a little lower than Thursday. Bulk of the good hogs sold around $7.50@7.60; not much under $7.30 that had any fat. Pigs are coming more freely and ranging in price from $6.50 to $7.25, if healthy. Prospects only moderate hog runs next week.

SHEEP AND LAMBS—Receipts of sheep and lambs have been quite liberal this week. Nevertheless we have had a good market and the trade is mostly 50@75c higher on lambs. Ewes and wethers 10@25c higher. We had a top here today of $8.25, with the bulk of the good lambs selling from $8 to $8.15; fair kinds, $7.25@7.75; good to choice ewes, $5@5.25, with a top of $5.50; fair to pretty good kinds, $4.25@4.75; culls and throwouts, $3.50@4.25; good to choice wethers, $5.25@6; good to choice yearling wethers $6.25@6.85.

There has been a good call for feeding and breeding stuff, with good to choice 55@60-lb feeding lambs selling from $7 to $7.20; fair to pretty good kind, $6.50@6.75; good to choice feeding ewes, $4@4.50; good to choice feeding wethers $5@5.25; lightweight feeding yearling wethers, $6@6.25, with a fair kind around $5.75.

We expect to see a good market here during the near future.

Earl N. Epler will leave this morning for Springfield to visit his sister, Miss Mary L. Epler.

The Story of the Company in Which LAWRENCE Y. SHERMAN Started His Career

"The Allen Law" and Gas Consolidation and Gas Frontage Acts

"There seems to be a community of interest between all these measures which have money in them for the corporations but have none for the city."—Chicago Tribune.

"Perjured boodlers * * that denunciation will last as long as they live."—Chicago Tribune.

"Jobbery, corruption and gang influence marked all these measures."—Times-Herald.

The Chicago Record editorially (June 5, 1897) listed those who voted for the Allen Bill—including Lawrence Y. Sherman and said:

"Let every citizen keep these names in mind. They stand for what is worst in the history of the legislation passed by the XL general assembly. The legislators who voted for the Yerkes-Allen Bill have lost all claim to consideration as men fit to hold office.

"If ever the time comes that one of these men asks for the votes of the people again his record on the Allen Bill will be on hand to defeat him."

"The leading candidate for the speakership is Judge Sherman, one of the eight re-elected republicans who voted for the Allen Law and who has persisted in calling it a good law even after the voters have condemned it * * * he has the support of the traction companies which in Chicago buy up aldermen to get franchises and jurors to escape verdicts for damages and in Springfield buy up legislators to get friendly speakers and bad laws."—Tribune Editorial, January 3, 1899.

Why Take Sherman?

"What reason can the Republican leaders give for making Lawrence Y. Sherman Speaker of the Illinois House of Representatives? The Republican party is not lacking in men of a better type. Why should it select for honor one who is recognized throughout the State as the champion of private as opposed to public interest?"—Record Herald Editorial, January 3, 1899.

"Senator Sherman realizes the strategic importance of keeping his past from becoming entangled with his future."—Chicago Daily News, Oct. 12, 1914.

Sherman in 1914 as Senator

Voted against:

Investigation of New York, New Haven & Hartford scandal—

Against Parcels Post and in favor of express company combine—

Against grain inspection in the interest of farmers—

He has been publicly repudiated by three Republican Senators, LaFollette, Norris and Clapp—who are for Robins.

ONCE again Illinois can have, and should have, a truly great man in the United States Senate—one who has devoted his life to the good of the masses of the people; one who has been heard all over this state and nation in earnest appeal for the betterment of the conditions of the common people; one who is known internationally for his championship of the masses; one who has never had a dollar from public taxation; one whose ambitions have never been for self, but always for the public good—Raymond Robins—strong, capable, unselfish, public-spirited, a good orator, a right reasoner, a sound man; wise in counsel, temperate in action; in his sympathies more like Lincoln than any man of our time, and as certainly honest.

Forget party, forget personal preferment, forget personal considerations and give the state a vote for Raymond Robins for United States Senator. Let Illinois be once more represented in the United States Senate by a man who will take place and rank with the best men who have ever represented Illinois there. Go early and vote for Robins. Help restore the good name and great fame of Illinois.

We have had a Lincoln; we have had a Grant; we have had a Logan—we need a Robins. He will be as surely for the public good and as little for personal gain as was Lincoln. With the greatest stretch of your imagination and conscience could you say as much for either of the other two candidates?

In this campaign Raymond Robins' integrity, his ability, his right-mindedness, have never been questioned. He stands before you with an untarnished record. His chief aim in life has always been to serve his fellow man. His acceptance of this nomination was prompted by a desire to do the most good for his country. Give Robins your vote.

Roosevelt on Illinois' Senatorial Fight

Chicago Coliseum Address, Oct. 19, 1914, Charges Sullivan and Sherman "Stand Together in the Essentials"

"Mr. Sullivan, the Democratic candidate for senator, has had his whole career shaped by his part in the Ogden gas ordinance which practically the solid press of the city at the time denounced. The passage of this ordinance was not an incident in the career of Mr. Sullivan. It was the foundation for his political and commercial career, and shortly after its passage he appeared as an officer of the corporation."

"The foundation for Mr. Sherman's whole political career was laid when in the legislature he was one of the most prominent supporters of the so-called Allen law. The Allen law was passed in the interest of Yerkes and Lorimer to confer upon city councils the right to grant fifty-year franchises."

"In all the essentials of their actions Mr. Sherman and Mr. Sullivan stand together. The essence of a bi-partisan machine is that on certain questions hostile to the interests of the public the members of the two machines vote against the interests of the public, and, furthermore, that in various crises the members of the one machine come to the help of the members of the other machine."

"I may make my appeal in Illinois not merely to the Progressives, but to all honest Republicans and honest Democrats to repudiate both the Sullivan and Sherman machines. This they can do only by electing to the United States senate as able and upright and genuine a popular representative as Illinois has ever sent to that body—namely, Raymond Robins."

—Chicago Tribune.

—Chicago Journal.

"Shameless brigandage."
—Daily News.

"Insolent and unscrupulous ringsters."—Times-Herald.

"Grab ordinances * * * unprecedented even in the villainous history of the City Council."—Evening Post.

"Two of the most transparent sand-bagging measures ever brought into the City Council."—Chicago Record.

(From the Commoner, August, 1914.)

"Every corruptionist in the democratic party in that state will support Sullivan, and so will all whom the corruptionists can influence. There will be no division among the reactionaries, the veneered republicans and the representatives of the predatory interests,—they all want Sullivan in the senate "to steady the boat," as he puts it. There should be no division in the ranks of those who oppose the special interests." W. J. BRYAN.

"In my opinion Mr. Sullivan * * * is not the man best qualified in any way whatsoever to represent the great state of Illinois in the United States Senate."—Mayor Harrison at Coliseum, Aug. 25. From Tribune, Aug. 26, 1914.

"Roger Sullivan is not a good Democrat. He never was and he never will be. He bolted the ticket in 1896 and helped to defeat William Jennings Bryan for the presidency. He bolted the Democratic ticket in Chicago in 1907 and helped to elect Fred A. Busse mayor of Chicago. He has been a traitor time and again. He is not deserving of the votes of good Democrats."—Governor Dunne to Chicago voters in August, 1914.

Sullivan or Robins?
—Asks La Follette

"The state that elected Lorimer senator may elect Sullivan, but it would inspire every progressive Republican and every progressive Democrat with hope to fight on if it should elect Raymond Robins to the United States Senate.

"Politicians rely upon the party name to carry the election for a candidate whose steady record should damn him before all men. They need a lesson everywhere."

President Wilson on Roger Sullivan

"The farther Roger Sullivan is from Washington the better it will be for President Wilson."

MORE WHEAT IN SOUTH.

The south bids fair this year to have a larger wheat acreage than ever before, according to John A. Rawlings of Bartlesville, Okla., a former resident of the city who is in Jacksonville for a few days on business. Mr. Rawlings took a trip through southern Oklahoma several days ago and says that in that section, where the cotton and wheat belts overlap, much of the land formerly devoted to the former crop is being put in wheat.

VOTE FOR Raymond Robins FOR United States Senator.

Progressives say: "We are for Robins to a man."

Anti-boss, anti-gang Democrats say: "We are going to vote for Robins."

Progressive Republicans say: "Robins is our kind of a man; we are for him."

The Democratic party leaders say: "The fight is between Sullivan and Robins."

The Republican party leaders say: "Sherman has to beat Robins."

Chicken hearted citizens say: "I would vote for Robins if I thought he could win."

Then everybody, altogether, vote your convictions that Robins is the best of the three for United States senator.

Robins can win. Robins will win. In 1912 Wilson received 405,000 votes, Roosevelt 386,000 and Taft 253,000 in the state of Illinois. The total vote in this state at the coming election will be about 1,000,000. The winner in the senatorial race must have at least 350,000 votes. Robins, with the vigorous support of Roosevelt, will get at least the 350,000 Roosevelt votes of 1912, and at least 150,000 Democrats who will refuse to support Sullivan. This will give him a half million votes with another half million divided between Sullivan and Sherman. Sullivan cannot hope to get the vote cast for Woodrow Wilson in 1912, and he cannot win. Neither can Sherman win.—(Paid for by Robins Non-Partisan Club.)

A SIMPLE WAY TO REMOVE DANDRUFF

Prevent Failing Hair and End Itching Scalp.

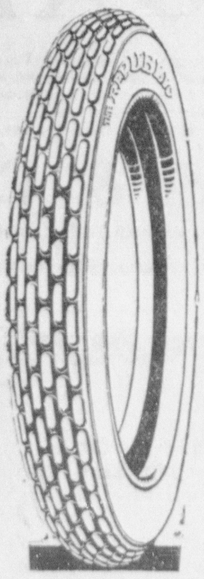

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve, and entirely destroy, every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

If you value your hair, you should get rid of dandruff at once, for nothing destroys the hair so quickly. It not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless, and everybody notices it.

POINTS TO VALUE IN COMMUNITY INTEREST

DR. HEIRONYMUS HEARD IN EXCELLENT ADDRESS ON FARM TOPIC.

Enlargement of Co-Operative Action in a Given Community Brings Results—Too Many Farmers Turn to the City for Conveniences Which Could Be Secured More Cheaply in the Country.

Dr. R. E. Hieronymus of the University of Illinois made and address before the newly organized Morgan County Farmers' club and others at the courthouse Saturday afternoon. The purpose of the speaker was to emphasize the advantages of co-operative activities in farming communities and the value of making conditions of farm life of such kind that they equal or exvel the advantages of city life.

Training Brings Results.

Dr. Hieronymus' general theme was "On Behalf of the Farm." He said that one of the greatest benefits which can come to the farms of Illinois is for a larger number of young men to go to the agriculture school of the university each year. The courses of instruction in this department are so helpful and broadening that the men who take courses there and return to the country ready to put into actual operation the ideas and knowledge gained in the university help not only themselves but the communities where they settle. The speaker said that this statement was not given as an advertisement for the university, for as a matter of fact the attendance the present year is practically as large as can be taken care of with present facilities and funds.

Continuing Dr. Hieronymus said: Something more than one thousand students are enrolled in the college this year and it is a noteworthy fact that of this number 114 are young men from Chicago. They are men who have turned to farming as their first choice in business or who have tried something else and have then determined that the openings for men willing to take the nncesary training are better in farming than in anything else. A poll taken at the college of agriculture last year showed that 317 of the young men enrolled represented a combined acreage of 109,141. This indicates how large an acreage of the state will be influenced by the training of even a thousand young men each year.

Short Courses Helpful.

"Another method which can be followed for the bettering of farm life and for the fostering of a desirable community spirit is by arranging with the university for short courses to be given at various points in the state where the farmers united in a request for such courses. The general plan is to send a number of members of the faculty of the school of agriculture to some given city or town for the week, and the expense for the course is simply a matter of railroad fare and maintenance of the instructors while they are absent from the university. The subject matter discussed at such short course lectures can be shaped as desired by the men in the community who arrange for them; that is, if they are interested particularly in soil fertility, that can be the subject, or if it is some branch of animal husbandry which is of special value to the community, that can be the theme, and so on through a wide range of subjects."

Day of Cheap Land Past.

The speaker mentioned a farm he knew of in one county in Illinois which consists of 4,00 acres and now has a value of $250 per acre. The present owner inherited it from his father who entered part of the land at $1.25 an acre and secured the rest at the cost of $2.50 per acre. Dr. Hieronymus used this to emphasize the fact that no one will ever again acquire valuable land at such an insignificant cost. This fact is one of the most important in forcing upon the public the realization that farm lands and farm life must be enriched. He said that it is marvelous how contagious better farming methods become. If some man in a community begins to farm scientifically and continues in the course started, the succes that he mets with immediately results in other farm residents of the same community taking up some of the methods. "It is true, too, that where experimental stations are placed at various points throughout the state that this is done not wholly to demonstrate right methods in farming but for the added purpose, at least in a great many cases, of finding out the conditions which prevail in that particular locality as to soil needs."

Dr. Hieronymus expressed the view that it is often a mistake for a land owner to leave his farm and move into the city. This course is often followed because of the better school facilities of the city or because members of the family long for the social life which the city will provide them, or possibly for mere household conveniences. The statement was made that often a farmer will move into a city and pay more simply for a building lot than it would have cost him to provide his country home with a water system, modern heating and plumbing equipment and other conveniences.

The bettering of school conditions was suggested as one means of keeping the farmer on the farm, and it was the speaker's belief that the school should not be made simply better as a school in the ordinary sense, but that its work should be broadened and made a center of community interest.

The City and the Country.

In his closing remarks Dr. Hieronymus laid especial stress on the close relations which should exist between the dwellers in a city like Jacksonville and the dwellers in the country round about it. This city he said has been made what it is wholly from the fertility of the land which surrounds it, and without such land the city would not exist. On the other hand, the establishment of a city like Jacksonville is of distinct advantage to the land and the land owners, and this simply means that there is a community interest which is founded upon fact and history. This interdependence, too, will continue through the years and constitutes the best possible reaand why there should be a continued working together toward common ends.

Dr. Hieronymus suggested that in place of a continued discussion of rural affairs, that a new word was coming into use which defines the interests of both and stands for a unification of the city and country. This word, which has not yet found its way into the dictionaries is "rurban," merely a combination of the two words mentioned, but as its meaning is realized so will come about a greater community interest and an up-building and bettering of conditions both on the farm and in the cities.

CONNIE MACK'S DAUGHTER TO WED

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 31—Although the Chicago White Sox could not defeat the Athletics on the diamond, a Chicago baseball fan has entirely eclipsed the fans of the Quaker City. Robert F. McCambridge, a bond salesman of Chicago, and Miss Margaret V. McGillicuddy, daughter of the renouned baseball leader, Connie Mack, will be married here next Monday. The romance dates back six years, when the young couple were neighbors here. Miss McGillicuddy was the mascot of the great baseball manager in the days when he was managing the Milwaukee club. With her grandmother she lived at East Brookfield, Mass., and every day went to the postoffice for news from "daddy" as to how his team was faring. Every victory brought a happy day for her. She has taken a deep interest in athletics, and knows the relative merits of all of the star baseball players.

GLASS OF SALTS IF YOUR KIDNEYS HURT

Eat Less Meat if You Feel Backachy or Have Bladder Trouble.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.—adv.

COLLEGE OF MUSIC NOTES.

The Amateur club of Chicago is to be honored soon by having Mrs. Hartmann of the voice department at the college, appear on one of their programs. The Amateur club is the largest musical organization in Chicago and its membership comprises some of the country's finest artists.

The first vesper service of the college for this year will take place Sunday afternoon, Nov. 1st, in the auditorium of Music hall. Those of the faculty who will take part in the program are Mr. Stearns, Mrs. Hartmann, Mrs. Day, Miss Miller and Miss Demuth. The public is cordially invited.

Mrs. Day and Miss Demuth are to furnish two numbers on the program of the concert to be given in the opera house Monday night for the benefit of the Tuberculosis fund.

The College Glee club was organized last week and work will be started immediately under the direction of Miss Miller of fthe vocal department. A Madrigal club also has been organized under Mr. Stearns' direction. This is composed of the best voices in the school and will study seriously some of the important works for women voices and serve also as a chapel choir.

CONSERVATORY NOTES.

Mrs. Wilson's song recital, which took place at the college gymnasium Friday evening, was most successful. A large and representative audience filled the gymnasium, receiving Mrs. Wilson with great enthusiasm. Miss Alice Philips assisted on the program by giving a demonstration of the system of Eurhythmics which she is teaching this year in the Conservatory, and Mr. Munger accompanied both Mrs. Wilson and Miss Phillips on the piano.

The oint recitals given by Miss Marguerite Butler and Mr. Dean Cochran in Springfield last Thursday afternoon and evening passed off with gratifying smoothness, and aroused many expressions of high appreciation.

The Conservatory Trio will give one number at the benefit concert in the opera house Monday evening, November 2nd, playing a trio by Schuett in five parts entitled Episodes.

Mr. Munger will give his annual piano recital late in November, the exact date to be announced later.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE NOTES.

Dr. John W. Hancher, assistant secretary of the board of education of the Methodist Episcopal church, spent Wednesday as a guest of the college. He was introduced and spoke briefly to the students at chapel. He has just returned from Baldwin, Kans., where he has been conducting a campaign for the securing of a half million dollars for Baker university.

The Indiana club enjoyed a picnic supper at Nichols park on Friday evening. This is a very active organization and is quite a factor in the social life of the college.

Miss Knopf has had her picture, "The Paie Woods" accepted by the jury for the 27th Annual American Artists' exhibition, which opens at the Chicago Art Institute on Nov. 4th. This is the most important exhibition held in Chicago during the year, and it is an honor to be included among the exhibitors.

Miss Mothershead, the dean, is spending Sunday and Monday with her parents in Chicago.

The Hallowe'en party, which was given by the College Specials in the old chapel, was a most unique and delightful affair. The students have the reputation for always having something clever when their stunts are given. Hallowe'en decorations and refreshments were enjoyed by all.

Arangements have just been completed for the Artists' course for 1914-15. The numbers on the course this year have been selected with great care and will cover a wide range of attractions.

Miss Mary J. Corbett, one of the traveling secretaries of the Young Woman's Association, is a guest of the local chapter. Visits from these secretaries are especially helpful from the inspirational view point.

President Harker will leave Tuesday for Oxford, Ohio, where he will attend the inauguration of President Boyd of the Western College of Women.

10 CENNT "CASCARETS" WILL STRAIGHTEN YOU UP

Tonight! Clean Your Bowels and End Headaches, Colds, Sour Stomach.

Get a 10-cent box now.

Turn the rascals out—the headache, biliousness, indigestion, the sick, sour stomach and bad colds—turn them out tonight and keep them out with Cascarets.

Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never know the misery caused by a lazy liver, clogged bowels or an upset stomach.

Don't put in another day of distress. Let Cascarets cleanse your stomach; remove the sour, fermenting food; take the excess bile from your liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight strightens you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10 cent box from any drug store means a clear head, sweet somach and clean, healthy liver and bowed action for months. Children love Cascarets because they never gripe or sicken.—Advt.

Capt. John E. Wright
Makes Last Appeal

I have desired to see every voter in Morgan and Sangamon counties and shake their hands and ask each one to vote for me at the coming election, but I see that this is impossible. So I take this way to reach as many of the voters as possible.

I feel that we are justly entitled to a representative in the Legislature from Morgan county. I find that many of the voters in Sangamon county feel the same way in regard to the matter. This encourages me in asking every voter who has this view to give me his support.

We have been without a representative in this county for several years, either in the senate or lower house. Everything considered, this is a remarkable situation. I feel satisfied that if the voters of Morgan county stand by me as they should that I will receive votes enough in Sangamon county to assure my election. If, however, the Morgan county votes fail me, there is no possible hope of my election.

With this in view, I ask my friends in every precinct in Morgan county to go to the polls next Tuesday and cast their votes for me.

They should also, wherever possible, solicit the support of others. Every friend can help.

If there is any kindness I can show, any good I can do, any beneficial acts I can perform in the interest of my fellow beings, let me do it now and not defer it or neglect it; for I shall not pass this way again. Personally, I have been a farmer, a trader, an auctioneer, and lastly, but by no means least, an old soldier.

Respectfully,
JOHN E. WRIGHT.

PEORIA DEFEATED BY CLOSE SCORE

JACKSONVILLE WON GRIDIRON CONTEST 7 TO 6.

Fierce Struggle Characterized Elevens Who Fought for Honors on Illinois Field Saturday Afternoon —Locals Strong in Critical Stages of the Game.

Jacksonville high school football team went a notch higher toward the championship of Central Illinois when they defeated the strong eleven of the Peoria Central high school by a score of 7 to 6. The visitors were the strongest aggregation the local lads have met this season and it was nip and tuck fight from start to finish for the honors. Peoria undoubtedly put up a splendid game and in fact outplayed Jacksonville in several points of the game. While the local lads put up a good game they didn't seem to be in their usual form and it was only when their goal was threatened that they displayed remarkable strength. On two different occasions Peoria had the ball within two yards of goal when they were held for downs. Peoria lost a good opportunity to score in the 3d quarter when they attempted a place kick, the ball going wild. They had been gaining consistently by line bucks and end runs and at the gait they were going it seemed apparent that they were bound to score, although the defense Jacksonville put up was great. Reynold scored the touchdown for Jacksonville.

Peoria got their score in the third quarter when a punt by Reynolds was blocked, Lawrence grabbing the ball, running a distance of 15 yards for a touchdown. Peoria failed to kick goal.

The following was the lineup:

Pyatt	L. E.	Lawrence
P. Strawn	L. T.	Wendall
Reynolds	H. L. G.	Auth
C. Strawn	C.	Slaughter
Robinson	R. G.	Thoman
